Memorandum of Instructions

MOI may be prepared by the paper setters on the following lines.

1. Solutions to numerical parts of questions.
2. Memorandum of Instruction should be written legibly showing the marks earmarked there for and be kept in the envelope provided for the same. Extra plain sheets may be used if necessary.
3. While preparing Mol (Memorandum of Instruction), total marks allotted to each question should be precisely distributed for the followings.

<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Definition</li> <li>b. Figure/Sketch (Labeled)</li> <li>c. Explanation with examples</li> <li>d. Construction/ Working</li> <li>e. Applications /uses.</li> <li>f. Formula/e</li> <li>g. Substitution of numerical values</li> <li>h. Steps</li> <li>i. Result &amp; units</li> </ol>	}	For Numerical Problems
---	---	------------------------
4. Mol should be for each question whether it is subjective one or numerical one.
5. Format of Mol may be made as shown below.

Question	Item (as applicable)	Marks
Theory Type	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. Definition</li> <li>ii. Figure</li> <li>iii. Construction /Working</li> <li>iv. Uses</li> <li>v. Examples</li> </ol>
Numerical Type	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Formula</li> <li>b. Substitution of data/values</li> <li>c. Steps Followed</li> <li>d. Result / Answer with Unit</li> </ol>

6. Valuation should be done as per the solutions to the numerical questions and marks awarded must be as per given in the solution.
7. Only 10% deviation in correct numerical values is permitted, otherwise marks should be deducted to the extent of 50%.
8. Approximately 25% marks should be given for correct method adopted by the students.
9. Due credit be given for neat work, good figure and proper uses of correct technical words.
10. Students are expected to write the nomenclature for symbols used in their notations for formula/expressions. Simply writing the formula and then working for problem will lead to deduction of marks.
11. Marks must be given to point wise answers in descriptive type of question. Due credit be given to figures and formulae used by students if it is related to question.
12. If the examiner finds that student has written irrelevant description just to mislead or cheat the valuer, then straight way zero marks be given to him.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PAPER SETTER FOR DESIGN OF QUESTION PAPER FOR B.E. EXAMINATION

1. Question should be set from each unit. All the questions are to be attempted. Each question should have internal choice.
2. Solutions to numerical parts of the question must be prepared by the paper setter and kept in a separate envelop along with the scheme of valuation. This document will be in the form of Memorandum of Instruction (Mol) to the valuers. Annexure-I enclosed shows the structure of Mol.
3. A question may consist of minimum of three parts (a), (b) & (c). The part 'a' will carry two marks and shall require very brief answer in 1-2 lines only. This part will consist of very easy type of question so that the examinee possessing elementary knowledge will also be in a position to correctly answer the part of the Question.

The remaining parts of the question should be set on any one of the following pattern or combination thereof.

Pattern A:

(a)	-----2 marks
(b)	} Any two questions @ 7 marks

Pattern B:

(a)	----- 2 marks
(b)	} Any one part @ 14 marks
(c)

This pattern may be used for long numericals / proofs / derivations / Design problems etc.

4. The question should be specific and unambiguous.
5. Care should be taken to ensure that there will be no missing data in any question and examinee should not be required to assume suitable data as far as possible.
6. The questions should be set well within the prescribed syllabus based on subtopics mentioned therein.
7. The question paper should be designed in such a manner so that an average student is able to score about 45% to 55% marks and should be quite challenging to score 80% or above marks.
8. The paper setter must ensure that it should be possible for a good student to solve all the question within the prescribed time limit.
